

Stories Of Communist Activities In Ministry Denied By Clergymen

NEW YORK (P) — A congressional report on alleged Communist activities of some clergymen has drawn new criticism and denials from members of the ministry.

The comments fell upon the House Un-American Activities Committee, which last Friday released testimony taken at secret hearings in New York in July.

Witnesses — three of whom said they were former Communists and successful examples of Red infiltration of religion — were quoted as saying the Communists plotted to plant hundreds of followers among the clergy. The three ex-Reds are Manning Johnson, Benjamin Gitlow and Joseph Zack Kornfeld, all of New York.

Among those named in the testimony as involved in such a plot were the Rev. Dr. Harry F. Ward, the Rev. John Haynes Holmes and the late Rabbis Stephen S. Wise and Judah Magnes.

Italy Asks Plebiscite In Explosive Trieste; Tito Sends Warning

By JAMES M. LONG

Rome (P) — The Western Big Three today studied an Italian plea for a free plebiscite in explosive Trieste and a blunt Yugoslav warning "not to pour oil on the fire."

Neither in Belgrade nor Rome was there much confidence that the latest settlement proposals by the raw-tempered neighbors had brought the 7-year-old quarrel over the strategic frontier any nearer solution. But neither was there serious fear that the height-ended dispute would lead to violence.

Occupied By Troops

In a speech here Sunday, Italian Premier Giuseppe Pella called for a plebiscite in the entire Free Trieste territory to determine whether it eventually should be under Italian or Yugoslav control.

At the same time he flatly rejected Yugoslav President Tito's proposal a week ago to internalize the port city of Trieste and give the surrounding rural territory to Yugoslavia.

At present, the northern part of the territory, including the port, is occupied by British and American troops. Italy assists in its joint administration. The southern district — B — is occupied by Yugoslav troops.

Tito speaking Sunday to a crowd of 15,000 in the Adriatic city of Split, warned the Italians they would "break their heads" against a stone wall of Yugoslav resistance if they attempted to seize Trieste by force.

Boys Crash Cars

OMEROVILLE, Mass. (P) — Teenage hot-rodders had a wild time Sunday crashing cars head-on into each other behind the Somerville Buick Co.

Company officials counted 14 cars smashed and estimated damage — ripped off fenders, shattered headlights and twisted bumpers — would total "at least $5,000."

They said the boys took advantage of the fact that mechanics had left keys in the ignition locks.

One carried this season to Sept. 1 totaled 65,791,836 tons, highest for the period on record, according to Oliver T. Burnham, association vice-president.

The 6,029,442 net tons of coal moved in August were the highest for any month this year, and 953 grain shipments, totaling 8,844,273 net tons on Sept. 1, were the best for the period since 1945.

Committee Studying Proposals By Ebasco

A planned, step-by-step program is shaping up to interest community, civic and industrial leaders and residents of the Upper Peninsula in the Ebasco report and to learn what should be done in following its recommendations for economic betterment of the region.

It may be a lengthy process before an organization eventually is formed to put the Ebasco development proposals into effect, but Abbott M. Fox of Iron Mountain, chairman of a steering committee named to study what possible action can be taken, believes that considerable "spade work" will be necessary before an improvement program can be started.

Serving with Fox on that committee are John M. Bush, Negau; G. Harold Earle, Hermansville; E. L. Pearce, Marquette, and John Warden, Houghton. They were appointed by H. H. Billings, Iron River, president of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, on authority granted by the Bureau's executive committee at a recent meeting in Marquette.

Start Pouring M-35 Concrete

Pouring concrete for 7,809 miles on M-35 south of Ford River was started this morning by a crew of the Pierson Construction Company, Saginaw.

The new highway will connect the concrete at Ford River to a stretch of concrete beginning at Fuller Park.

Work on the roadbed was done through the summer. The new highway is relocated but parallels the old highway most of the route.

When the job is completed, only about 16 miles of the M-35 route between Menominee and Escanaba will lack concrete. The entire road will be concrete in another year or two, the highway department has indicated.

Men's Knees May Come Out In Spring

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Men's knees have been the hottest item this summer in scattered sections of this land.

So now merchants are scanning the prospects for walking shorts, as they lay their plans for stocking up for next spring's trade.

And they are also noting that many manufacturers currently are busy raising prices on their next spring's lines of suits with trousers of regular length.

Some enthusiasts of the cult of baring the knobby male patella to the summer sun are predicting that shorts, either British or Bermuda, will soon supplant long pants as regulation hot weather wear. Merchants are wondering whether to order heavily now—or scantly.

The National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers has been pondering this trend, too. It put the weighty question to its style committee.

Their verdict: Long pants are here to stay.

Radio Hams Assist In Marquette Rescue

Amateur radio operators assisted in the rescue of three 14-year old Marquette youths who had been stranded on Small Presque Island, 200 yards off shore in Lake Superior near Marquette since Thursday night.

The boys, rescued today, are Harry Kelly, David Lompre and Jack Johnson.

Through the efforts of Mrs. John Nicholson, Paul Miller of Lansing, owner and pilot of a Beechcraft Conanza, with co-pilot and navigator John Roberts of DeerTrack Village, reconnoitered and then flew over the isolated island and dropped food parcels and warm clothing to the boys. Through binoculars, watchers said that five of the seven packages dropped were found by the youngsters, who ran with them to the small tent they had for shelter.

Events leading up to the 'food drop' were hectic. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kelly drove out to the point near the island to take food to the boys late Thursday afternoon. The weather was calm. Only when Su-

Radio Hams Assist

During the night one of the year's worst storms developed over Superior and the boys were isolated by rain, huge breakers and a strong current. Radio ham Ray St. Cyr of Marquette learned of this from Kelly who is also a ham and alerted the local hams.

Ted Graphos and George Lehtinen, who have mobile radio units in their cars, drove to the point nearest the island and kept communication and information with Ray in Marquette. Before long the entire upper and lower state were alerted and guarding the emergency frequency.

Coast Guard rescue units were alerted and they made several attempts to shoot a rescue rope to the boys on the island. Strong seas and heavy tide broke the rope before the boys could pull the larger rope across. Several tries were made by the Coast Guard Helicopter but strong cross winds prevented hovering and the helicopter could not get close enough to enable rescue.

State Police, Marquette City

Troopers, National Guard and the Marquette Fire Dept. were on hand, doing whatever could be done at the moment. The Fire Dept. kept two strong flood lights on the island during the night to keep up the morale of the youngsters, who were without food, fire or warm clothing.

Food is Supplied

Dr. and Mrs. John Nicholson, with their son John and daughter Barbara, shuttled back and forth between Marquette and the beach with the warm food and hot coffee for the radio hams who stood watch. Young Johnson and Barbara kept watch fires burning on the beach. Many others, also kept up the flow of food for the rescue parties.

Michigan Bell Telephone operators also cooperated with emergency measures and got all phone calls through with greatest possible speed. A Marquette dairy sent chocolate milk to the scene in case a rescue rope could be shot across to the boys.

Reasons most commonly given are that labor costs have gone up and that larger retail markups are being granted. Many lines are being expanded and feature new blends of synthetics, so that price comparisons are relative.

Radio Hams who kept rescue communications open and operating include W8HK, W8GOO, W8IOC, W8CQG, W8ZUL, W8FHY, W8VJD, W8GEW, Waldo McCrea a short wave listener, Bruce Kropf who is studying for his ham ticket, W8YLA, Dave Lehtinen, all of Marquette and W8ENK Grand Marais.

Radio operators who kept the emergency frequency of 3920 open for OPERATION "RESCUE", include W8NEA of Seney, W8JP of Michigan, W8QPO of Traverse City, W8IVR of the Soo, W8SYQ of Traverse City and two Wisconsin stations, W8UDX and W8NYH.

Learning of the emergency, Helen Cloutier who is the U. S. Coast Guard Auxiliary station at Escanaba and who also operates mobile radio in her car, drove to Marquette early Sunday to assist in the rescue.

Cold Here, But No Frost Yet

The temperature reached a low of 36 this morning at 5 o'clock in Escanaba, but some cloudiness, and strong winds blowing most of the night, prevented frost from forming. S. E. Decker, U. S. Weather Bureau meteorologist here, said today.

In Boney Falls, near Cornell, "where there's good air drainage down the slopes of the hills," the mercury sank to 28, Decker said. Thin ice formed and there were heavy frost deposits.

In other places in the U. S., which made reports, temperatures did not drop to freezing. The one exception was Sault Ste. Marie, where low of 32 this morning produced a killing frost.

High today in Escanaba should be around 60, Decker said, with the low tonight in the neighborhood of 45. Tuesday's high should also be in the low 60's.

Decker noted that the cool air has pushed on to center over the southern Appalachian mountains. Several cities in the southeast had record lows for so early in the season, among them Elkins, W. Va., with 31; Greensboro, N. C., with 43; and August, Ga., with 47.

Some spots in the U. S. are still sweltering, however. Decker said Red Bluff in northern California had 109 degrees Sunday, a record high for so late in the season.

The meteorologist remarked, however, that "Red Bluff is a place that's susceptible to high temperatures." Its location is such, he explained, that hot air is trapped there during the summer.

Record high temperature for a Sept. 14 in Escanaba over the past 33 years is 84, in 1939, Decker said. Record low is 31, 1899.

Start Pouring M-35 Concrete

Pouring concrete for 7,800 miles on M-35 south of Ford River was started this morning by a crew of the Pierson Construction Company, Saginaw.

The new highway will connect the concrete at Ford River to a stretch of concrete beginning at Fuller Park.

Work on the roadbed was done through the summer. The new highway is relocated but parallels the old highway most of the route.

When the job is completed, only about 16 miles of the M-35 route between Menominee and Escanaba will lack concrete. The entire road will be concrete in another year or two, the highway department has indicated.

Men's Knees May Come Out In Spring

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Men's knees have been the hottest item this summer in scattered sections of this land.

So now merchants are scanning the prospects for walking shorts, as they lay their plans for stocking up for next spring's trade.

And they are also noting that many manufacturers currently are busy raising prices on their next spring's lines of suits with trousers of regular length.

Some enthusiasts of the cult of baring the knobby male patella to the summer sun are predicting that shorts, either British or Bermuda, will soon supplant long pants as regulation hot weather wear. Merchants are wondering whether to order heavily now—or scantly.

The National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers has been pondering this trend, too. It put the weighty question to its style committee.

Their verdict: Long pants are here to stay.

While about it the committee

Radio Hams Assist In Marquette Rescue

Amateur radio operators assisted in the rescue of three 14-year old Marquette youths who had been stranded on Small Presque Island, 200 yards off Lake Superior near Marquette since Thursday night.

The boys, rescued today, are Harry Kelly, David Lompre and Jack Johnson.

Through the efforts of Mrs. John Nicholson, Paul Miller of Lansing, owner and pilot of a Beechcraft Conanza, with copilot and navigator John Roberts of DeerTrack Village, reconnoitered and then flew over the isolated island and dropped food parcels and warm clothing to the boys. Through binoculars, watchers said that five of the seven packages dropped were found by the youngsters, who ran with them to the small tent they had for shelter.

Events leading up to the 'food drop' were hectic. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kelly drove out to the point near the island to take food to the boys late Thursday afternoon. The weather was calm. Only when Su-

Radio Hams Assist

During the night one of the year's worst storms developed over Superior and the boys were isolated by rain, huge breakers and a strong current. Radio ham Ray St. Cyr of Marquette learned of this from Kelly who is also a ham and alerted the local hams.

Ted Graphos and George Lehtinen, who have mobile radio units in their cars, drove to the point nearest the island and kept communication and information with Ray in Marquette. Before long the entire upper and lower state were alerted and guarding the emergency frequency.

Coast Guard rescue units were alerted and they made several attempts to shoot a rescue rope to the boys on the island. Strong seas and heavy tide broke the rope before the boys could pull the larger rope across. Several tries were made by the Coast Guard Helicopter but strong cross winds prevented hovering and the helicopter could not get close enough to enable rescue.

State Police, Marquette City Troopers, National Guard and the Marquette Fire Dept. were on hand, doing whatever could be done at the moment. The Fire Dept. kept two strong flood lights on the island during the night to keep up the morale of the youngsters, who were without food, fire or warm clothing.

Contract With Electric Co-op Has Some Distressing Factors

SHOULD the City of Escanaba enter into a contract with the Alger-Delta Electric Cooperative to receive "surplus" electric power from the co-op for a 10-year period?

That is one of the perplexing questions that will confront the Escanaba City Council in the event the Alger-Delta Cooperative is granted a construction loan by the Rural Electrification Administration for the purpose of building a new electric generating plant.

The Alger-Delta Co-op proposal has some advantages for the city and some definite disadvantages. One of the advantages is that the co-op plan provides a means for the city to secure electric power beyond the period now covered by the city's contract with the Mead Corporation, expiring in 1959. Further, according to the electric co-op, the electric power can be provided to the city at a reasonable rate.

The disadvantages may well outweigh the advantages. For one thing, REA-financed plants are designed to provide power to rural areas. The rural customers of the co-op then would have first claim on the power generated and the City of Escanaba would get only the surplus power. At the outset the generating capacity of the proposed plant would be sufficiently large to meet the city's requirements as well as the requirements of rural customers. But as the rural areas expanded their power demands, the city's supply may be jeopardized.

An additional disadvantage is the fact that the 10 year contract period is not long enough to guarantee an adequate power supply for industrial expansion. Any major industry that may be interested in locating in Escanaba would think twice before making the heavy investment of plant facilities without a guaranteed power supply.

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

Question: I see the word "solon" in the newspaper headlines a lot, but I've never seen it in the article under the headline and I've never in my life heard anybody use it in talking. What, exactly, does it mean?

M. S., Bean Station, Tenn.

Answer: Solon, a statesman who lived in Athens, Greece, 500 years before Christ, might be called the headline writer's friend, for his name has joined the host of words that are virtually indispensable to the newspaper copyreader because of their brevity. The words "representative," "congressman," "legislator," and "lawmaker" are all long words and, often as not, none will fit into a headline. So the name of solon, used without the capital "S," comes in very handy to mean any lawmaker.

This general use for Solon's name wasn't invented by the men on the newspaper copy desks, though they have certainly kept it alive. The wise old Athenian often is found in rather violent company among the headline writer's favorite words. This is not because men who write headlines are bloodthirsty—it's just that most of the milder words are too long.

For example, to criticize becomes, depending on the severity of the criticism and the space available, to hit, blast, flail, slap, score or lash. These shorter action words usually find their way into the reporter's stories because they live things up. Old Solon, however, is probably doomed to live on only in the headlines.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY: "The difference between the right word and the almost right word is the difference between lightning and the lightning-bug."

—Mark Twain.

NOTE: Send your questions about words and usage to William Morris in care of this paper. You are assured a prompt reply.

The Doctor Says...
Foods Have Been Analyzed,
Help To Persons on Special Diet

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D. — Written for NEA Service

The question of the composition of foods is often of considerable importance to those who are on a special diet and, fortunately, for this purpose, almost all foods have been analyzed.

Q—Will you please inform me as to the ingredients in beer and ale? Mrs. B. L.

A—Different brands of beer and ale will vary from one another somewhat. The average glass of beer, however, will contain approximately 4.5 per cent alcohol 4.5 per cent extracts, and will provide around 125 calories. A glass of American ale runs around 6.02 per cent alcohol, 4.86 per cent extracts, and will provide about 155 calories.

Q—I am 30 years old and two years ago had part of my thyroid gland removed. Will this cause an early change of life?

Mrs. M.

A—Unless so much of your thyroid was removed as to give you an underaction of this gland (which is not counteracted by taking thyroid pills) it should not cause an early change of life.

Q—Is it true that two blond parents are unlikely to have a red-headed boy, but that one blond parent and one dark-haired one might have a red-haired child?

S. G.

A—It is correct that two blond-haired parents would have only blond-haired children. A person with dark hair, however, may be carrying what is known as a red gene and, therefore, children of such a parent and one who is blond may or may not have red hair.

Q—What causes lymphosarcoma of the tonsils and is there a cure for it?

T. R.

A—Lymphosarcoma is a kind of malignant tumor and no one can tell exactly what causes such tumors. In all probability the treatment would be removal of the tonsils, quite likely followed by radium or X-ray treatment.

Q—I have a problem with the sun. When I go out in the bright sunshine I sneeze and get a tingling sensation in my nose. What is this strange thing?

Miss O.

A—This is a common phenomenon. What probably happens is that the bright sunlight stimulates a portion of the brain which might be called the sneezing center and results in watering of the nose and an impulse to sneeze.

Q—Is it true that two blond parents are unlikely to have a red-headed boy, but that one blond parent and one dark-haired

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When John Foster Dulles was suddenly summoned to Denver last week, many people, including the Secretary of State himself, figured he was in for a Presidential spanking for his off-the-cuff remark about U. S. support for Chancellor Adenauer which caused such a furor among German Socialist voters.

But when Dulles got to Denver, he was agreeably surprised. The President, busy with golf, fishing, and domestic political problems, hadn't heard much about the political furor kicked up by the Dulles statement. So when his Secretary of State explained the incident, Eisenhower made a very laconic remark.

Our man won, didn't he, he said in brief. Then what are we worrying about? If your support was a mistake, maybe you can arrange to make a similar mistake just before the 1954 elections when we are going to need all the help we can get.

The two men then settled down for a two-hour discussion of world problems, and Dulles came away with the feeling that the President had given him carte blanche to speak out bluntly at future press conferences.

Note—Before he left Denver he did so. Interviewed by the press, the Secretary of State said he had no evidence that the Communists were holding back prisoners. Naturally this was immediately picked up by the Reds, and when Gen. B. M. Bryan served an ultimatum on the Reds to return 944 remaining American prisoners—or else—the Reds promptly came back with the statement that there were none. And to back up their contention, they quoted none other than John Foster Dulles and his statement in Denver.

JOCKEYING OVER ADLAI

Behind all the oratory to which the windy city will be subjected during the next two days, and behind all the headlines about Southern defections from the Democratic party, there is just one big issue in the minds of those who gather at the Democratic whoopfest today. It is:

Will Adlai Stevenson be the next candidate of the Democratic party and the next President of the United States?

There are a lot of side issues, such as the vigor with which the Democrats should criticize Eisenhower; and whether there should be a Southern or Northern national chairman. But all these shade off into insignificant sideshows beside the jockeying over Adlai.

The fact that the jockeying has become so energetic less than a year after one of the most crushing defeats a Democratic candidate ever suffered shows that a definite gleam of confidence is back in Democratic eyes. Most of them figure, rightly or wrongly, that the Democratic nomination in 1956 may be worth a lot of effort.

Jockey No. 1—Cagey, careful Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia doesn't even expect to be at the Chicago conclave. But his potent hand will be felt just the same. One of the ablest of Southern senators, Russell went to Venezuela last fall, made no campaign speeches for Stevenson, and privately wants to eucrue Adlai out of the 1956 running.

Jockey No. 2—Is Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee. Kefauver is riding his own horse, hiding behind no one else, and has a powerful following among grass-roots Democrats. Most Republicans will tell you that if Kefauver had been running last fall instead of Adlai, Ike would have had a tougher battle.

Jockey No. 3—Is Gov. Mennen Williams of Michigan. "Soapy," as he's called because his family founded the soap and baby powder companies whose names he bears, is not whipping up his horse. He's modestly running only for the senate from Michigan. But he's one of the most popular Democrats ever to be elected in the normally Republican state of Michigan, and is a man who should be watched for 1956.

Jockey No. 4—Is Harry Truman himself. Like Dick Russell of Georgia, Harry is a trainer more than a jockey. He's playing no favorites at the moment but is extremely anxious to pick and train a horse that can win.

We're all alike—right now wishing for winter which will give us a chance to work for summer.

Questions and Answers

Q—Has any official decision been reached on the effectiveness of AD-X2, the battery additive?

A—No, despite government tests and Congressional hearings. However, the Post Office Aug. 20 cancelled a fraud order (previously suspended) against use of the mails by the manufacturer to promote the rejuvenator. The cancellation noted that there still is substantial disagreement about AD-X2, but declared that the manufacturer's "intent . . . to deceive" had not been proved, as required before a fraud order can be issued and enforced.

"That's Odd—I Went to Sleep on Top of the World"

We're Not Preparing Our Sons For Battlefields; Korea Proof

EXHAUSTED AMERICAN SOLDIERS lie by the side of the road in Korea as fighting raged before truce. Statistics now show our troops were "less able" to take it than our allies.

By FRED SPARKS

SEOUL, KOREA—(NEA)—We are not preparing our sons physically and mentally to meet the dangers of foreign battlefields.

Proof is found here in Korea in piles of statistics of physical breakdowns and mental crackups, studied during this time of truce.

A careful examination of United Nations soldiers coming back from Communist prison camps shows that our GIs were less able to take the shocking barbaric treatment than their allies.

For example: On a percentage basis, it is positive that fewer British Tommies died during the weeks of forced marches and starvation diets.

A released British officer explained it this way:

"The Yanks went to pieces in the biting cold faster than we did. They were used to softer living and were not in as good physical shape, not as tough. As a result they suffered more and lost the will to live."

As long as the United States means to be the policeman of the Free World, more and more of our young men will be sent to far off places and exposed to the same primitive field conditions found here in Korea.

As a correspondent I have seen our troopers in every one of their foreign assignments from World War II and on. Once again I have become terribly aware that while the GIs are well equipped mechanically, they are poorly prepared in body and mind.

Having visited Korea's Bullet Boulevard during the costly winter of 1950, the victorious spring of 1951, and the trench warfare of 1953 I am convinced thousands of young Americans died of sheer exhaustion and suffered mental collapse because they were improperly trained.

Our GIs learn fast, but if their outfits were attacked during their first days on the line they paid—with their lives—for the mistakes of easy-going generals and complaining mothers back home.

After we got pushed off Pork Chop Hill in the last Chinese shovels before the truce, a bushed and limping GI said: "We used to curse our platoon Sergeant back at Fort Bragg for making us sleep a night in a rock filled foxhole."

If I was back there now I would curse him for not making us live in a foxhole for a month with shells whizzing overhead. I wasn't prepared for what we just went through.

If we had been given a better idea of what war is really like Corporal T . . . wouldn't have blown his top when the Chink artillery hit around us. He stood up screaming and got a hole in his chest bigger than your camera case."

If we're going to continue to underwrite the security of half the globe—from Berlin to Seoul—we must re-examine our training program and get tough.

The American mother who writes to her Congressman about bad conditions for her son undergoing basic training might be condemning him to death if and when he is sent to battle and billet in a frozen rice paddy. It is better for your son to be cold at home than dead abroad.

Despite the fancy talk of the H-bomb, we have no proof the infantryman is obsolete. We had complete control of the air here, yet night after night our GIs were fighting—with bayonet and fist—against Chinese and North Koreans.

Certainly life complete with the pop-up toaster and home freezer makes for flabby muscles as opposed to the civilization of ox-carts and A-frames.

Touring British army camps a few years ago I noted the unheated barracks and cold, muddy maneuver fields. Touring American army camps I noted radiators whistling like tea kettles and maneuver delayed or cancelled during poor weather.

A wise Marine general often in trouble because he publicly speaks against panty-waist training methods, told me: "It would be a patriotic service to burn every barracks in America and make the men live on the ground.

The Russian soldier doesn't go on occasion maneuver: In training he is always on maneuver simulating actual war conditions."

America is talking tough. She's got to get tough, and that means in the old fashioned way of strong arms and legs that can march 30 miles a day with full pack, as well as 600-mph jets. It will be cheaper that way in the precious commodity of young men's lives.

So They Say

He (Justice Vinson) was a great justice and a great citizen of the country.—Ex-President Truman.

Rita Gets Two Death Letters

LOS ANGELES (P) — Rita Hayworth's two young daughters are under armed guard at her home today after the film star's attorney said Miss Hayworth received the second of two letters threatening death unless she returns to Prince Aly Khan.

Included in the death threat was Yasmin, Rita's 2½ year old daughter by Aly.

Rita's attorney, Bartley Crum, who confirmed receipt of the two letters, said the armed guard was placed over Yasmin and her half-sister, Rebecca Welles, 8, daughter of Orson Welles, at Miss Hayworth's home.

"I don't know if this is serious or not, but it would be very foolish to take a chance," Crum said.

Miss Hayworth is in Las Vegas, Nev., visiting crooner Dick Haymes whom she plans to marry later this month.

Both letters reportedly bore postmarks from New Rochelle, N. Y.

The actress was divorced from Prince Aly in Reno last Jan. 26 and last Friday turned down a divorce settlement which Crum said involved approximately one million dollars for the support of Yasmin.

Rita's objection was on a condition of the settlement that Yasmin be exposed to Moslem teachings when he is seven, and have the child taken to Europe for two or three months each year.

Crum said there was a possibility that the unsigned threatening letters originated with some followers of the Moslem faith.

Fighting Democrats Shout Defiance At GOP In Chicago

Congress generally have contended the President's proposals got approval of this year's Congress only because of Democratic support. Mitchell said he doesn't believe coattail riding will work.

"I don't know if Eisenhower will be able to help elect anybody to Congress in another year," he declared.

All of this firing at the Republicans served to distract attention temporarily from the party's own inner troubles, scheduled to come to a boil later in the day in a series of panel sessions preceding a $100 a plate dinner tonight.

Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.), bailed as the principal speaker, planned an attack on what he contends is big business influence on the Eisenhower administration. Douglas was to share time with 11 other party notables, including Stevenson and Truman.

Loyalty Pledge Opposed

The internal strife within the party centered around proposed efforts by dissident Southern members to do something about the so-called loyalty pledge adopted at last year's national convention.

Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi, a late arrival, was looked upon as the most likely author of any attack on the pledge.

The pledge, exacted from most delegates to the 1952 convention, put them on their word to use every honorable means of getting the national ticket on the ballot in their states under the Democratic label.

Detroit Woman Dies Tied To Bed

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (P) — An elderly former Detroit woman, found tied to her bed nine days ago, died Sunday.

She was Mrs. Melissa Booth, 82-year-old widow of William N. Booth, former vice president and chief engineer at Detroit's Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Corp.

On Sept. 4 police had found the aged woman bound and in great pain from a recently broken hip. Constable Louis Carroll said her daughter, Pearl, and nurse, Mary Shore, had passed out on the floor.

Both the latter women were sentenced Friday to 30 days in jail for drunkenness. Justice of the Peace Tom Carr said he would call a coroner's inquest into Mrs. Booth's death to consider additional charges against the daughter and the nurse.

Carroll said that he and other officers had broken into the Booth home on complaints by neighbors of drinking party. He said they found Mrs. Booth tied to her bed in a sitting position.

William N. Booth, the deceased woman's husband, had made his home in Lake Worth in 1948 after retiring that year. He died in November, 1952.

Convict Riot Caused By Umpire's Decision At Maryland Prison

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (P) — It wasn't poor food or rough treatment by guards that sent more than 100 inmates on a plotous binge of destruction Sunday night at the Maryland State reformatory at Hagerstown.

The Maryland, an ore carrier owned by the Bethlehem Transportation Co., a subsidiary of Bethlehem Steel Corp., was bound from Buffalo to Marquette to get a load of iron ore.

Capt. A. P. Goodrow said the ship ran into trouble from the sudden, freak storm early Saturday. He added that the Maryland was driven ashore because her holds were empty. Members of the crew praised Goodrow's handling of the vessel in getting her past rocky areas before she was grounded.

Representatives of the ship's owners were expected to go to Sault Ste. Marie for an investigation of the beaching.

Before being subdued by tear gas, fire hoses and Raymond's stern words, they wrecked furniture, shattered windows and smashed lighting fixtures in two recreation rooms of the western Maryland institution.

The riot-provoking decision came in the semi-final playoffs of the reformatory league, causing one team to stalk off the field midway through the game.

Detectives said the girl got up on a car and, as band-playing Shriners tooted and danced in the streets, proceeded to do an impromptu strip. The girl slipped away and disappeared before police could arrest her.

Stripper Skips

OKLAHOMA CITY (P) — A pretty teen-age girl, apparently carried away by frolicking in the streets as 12,000 Shriners gathered here for the central state Shrine convention, turned the downtown area upside down this weekend.

Detectives said the girl got up on a car and, as band-playing Shriners tooted and danced in the streets, proceeded to do an impromptu strip. The girl slipped away and disappeared before police could arrest her.

When The Quints Were Babies: 4

IN EVERY family album are specially precious pages recording baby's "firsts." And as historic as any "firsts" were those of five little girls named Dionne — the quintuplets the world watched grow up.

Here are Marie (left photo) and Yvonne (second from left) taking their first steps, for instance. That was back in the spring of 1935. Today those same two quintuplets are about to take their first steps away from the family fireside in Ontario. First of the quintuplets to talk was Emilie, and for the Dionne family album, they decked her out in a new hair-ribbon for the silent photo (center) of Emilie saying "Ma-ma," way back in October, 1935 at two and a half. Her first ice cream cone was a big event for Cecile (second from right), and that cold nose and chin must have felt mighty nice on the 1938 summer day.

And for any little girl, the first doll's bed is something to remember. If Annette looked back to 1939 in her family album, she'd see herself (right photo) oblivious to everything else as she tucks dolly in for the night under the tiny blankets.

Conservation Department Checks On Fish Controls

LANSING (AP)—The State Conservation Commission will receive recommendations at its next meeting for new experiments in fishing regulations.

The conservation Department's Fish Division said it would recommend the setting aside of three groups of three lakes each for research in warm-water fish controls.

The Division proposed under one group to increase the minimum size limit on large mouth and smallmouth bass to 16 inches and on northern pike to 24 inches on Fife Lake in Grand Traverse and Kalkaska counties, on Minnewaukon Lake in St. Joseph county and Saginaw Lake in Washtenaw county.

More Panfish
Exports hope to learn whether higher size limits will increase the population of these fish and reduce the numbers of small panfish, with a resulting growth in all types of fish.

In a second group, the division wants to eliminate closed seasons on all species of fish on Bear Lake in Menominee county, Pontiac Lake in Oceana county and Whitmore Lake in Washtenaw county.

In this experiment, the division hopes to learn whether additional fishing for large game fish will provide a greater harvest without depleting the population beyond the reproduction limit.

The division proposed a third category in which size limits on all species of fish would be eliminated on Fine Lake in Barry county, Duck Lake in Calhoun county and Big Portage Lake in Jackson county.

Few Small Bass

Here the division seeks to determine the need for size limits on larger fish and permit a greater harvest of these fish. The division reported that very few small bass or pike are taken on these lakes and that possibly anglers should be allowed to keep what they catch since fish often die when returned to the water.

The division said the nine lakes were among those on which special liberalized rules were adopted several years ago, leading to statewide reviving of creel, size and season limits.

The Game Division will recommend permission for deer hunters to take one buck with three antlers as a camp deer during the archery seasons and general deer season.

The commission will meet Sept. 24-25 at Haven Hill.

The death rate from disease among U. S. Navy and Marine personnel in the Korean war was lower than during the peacetime years 1946 to 1949.

Specialist Says Supreme Court Is Losing Prestige

WASHINGTON (AP)—A political science specialist said the Supreme Court has lost its place "in the trinity of federal powers" and can only regain it by more "vigorous intervention against the Congress and the White House."

Dr. Earl Latham, professor at Amherst College, expressed his views in a paper prepared for the concluding session of the American Political Science Assn.

Nearly a dozen panel discussions were on the third and final session program of the private research organization, whose new president is Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Negro educator and director of the department of trusteeship of the United Nations.

At another panel, Dr. Murray Edelman of the University of Illinois discussed "Labor's Role in Foreign Policy." His prepared talk said labor has a major role in determining such policy and recommended creation of a new federal agency to monitor conflicting domestic and foreign policies that might damage labor and other groups.

Edelman proposed a presidential staff unit with authority to examine any policy conflicts and make recommendations to the President and Congress.

Future Dust-Bomb Would Destroy Food

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A terrible, but still undeveloped new atomic weapon—a "dust bomb"—someday may be used to render the food supply of whole nations useless.

This is the disclosure of a University of Arizona biochemist after 2½ years of secret research here.

Dr. Wallace H. Fuller, working on special assignment for the Atomic Energy Commission, said the fantastically powerful new force could be produced from radioactive strontium.

Dropped By Planes

"It could cripple the food supply of large areas of land," Fuller said.

The Arizona professor said radioactive strontium could cause sickness or death if built up in sufficient amount. "Potentially it is the most biologically hazardous of the fission products," he explained.

Planes, he said, could drop it in the form of dust and it would contaminate crops, lands and water supplies.

"Radioactive strontium could be introduced into the human or animal body by many means, by contaminated water, directly contaminated food crops or by food crops grown in contaminated soil."

"If animals should eat forage, such as grasses or alfalfa, that contain radio-strontium, the radioactivity would concentrate in their bones."

Helen Joy Nelson Is The Bride Of Donald E. Goss

The First Presbyterian Church was the setting for the wedding Saturday of Miss Helen Joy Nelson, daughter of Mrs. Ludwig Nelson of 1026 Stephenson Ave., and Donald E. Goss of Milwaukee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett W. Goss of Winchester, Mass.

The double ring candlelight service was solemnized at 4 p.m. by the Rev. James H. Bell.

Altar bouquets of fall shades of asters, baby mums and gladiolus, banded with palms, formed the setting for the ceremony. White satin ribbons with clusters of white gladiolus and lemon leaves marked the pews.

Satin And Tulle

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, P. K. Bowers, wore traditional white satin. Her gown was styled with nylon tulle pleating over a hoop skirt. A high pointed lace collar and long tapered sleeves detailed the fitted satin bodice. Her veil of French illusion edged with double rows of Chantilly lace was caught to a crown of seed pearls. She wore pearls, the bridegroom's gift, as her only jewelry, and she carried a cascade of white feathered carnations and roses with streamers of ivy.

Identical gowns of graduating shades of blue nylon were worn by her attendants. The strapless bodices were complemented by short lace jackets over taffeta with cap sleeves and the tiered skirts were very full. Sprays of flowers matching their bouquets formed their headresses and short nylon gloves completed their attire. The bride's twin sister, Mrs. George Sealand of LaCrosse, Wis., who was matron of honor, carried a cascade of bronze pompons with talisman ribbon streamers. The bridal aides, Miss Gladys Swanson of Blue Island, Ill., and Miss Catherine Goss of Winchester, a sister of the bridegroom, carried similar arrangements of yellow and bronze pompons.

Theodore Barrett of Winchester served as Mr. Goss' best man. George Sealand of LaCrosse and Clarence Sebold of Fort Wayne, Ind., seated the guests.

Reception At Church

Mrs. Nelson attended her daughter's wedding in a street length dress of grey and pink taffeta with rhinestone button trim. Matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses and white baby mums completed her ensemble. Mrs. Goss wore dusty rose taffeta with matching accessories. Her corsage was white carnations and yellow baby mums.

A prelude of bridal music was played by Mrs. F. M. Fernstrom as the guests were assembling. She also played the traditional processional and recessional and accompanied Mrs. Eric Hammar, soloist, who sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Father, Hear Us Now" by Schubert.

Honeymoon In Bermuda

The reception for 150 guests was held immediately following the ceremony in Westminster Hall of the church. Mixed fall flowers formed the decorative theme and the all white wedding cake was encircled with oak leaves. Crystal candelabras and white tapers were effectively placed on the serving table. Presiding at the silver service were Miss Lois Way and Miss Dolores Way, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Robert Corbett served the punch and Mrs. Walter Dickson,

Wedding In Old Mission At Solvang Of Interest Here

Interest in Escanaba, former home of the bridegroom, was the wedding of Miss Connie Gonzalez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gonzalez of Santa Ynez, Calif., and Joseph Vanlerberghe of Lompoc, which took place in a candlelight service at historic old Santa Ines Mission in Solvang.

Father Tim O'Sullivan performed the double ring ceremony. Baskets of white gladiolus, Esther Reed daisies and asters decorated the altar, arranged with tall white tapers in candelabra.

The bride wore a gown of white lace over satin, styled with a drop-shoulder yoke of net, full length sleeves and a hoop skirt. Her veil of illusion was trimmed with lace and caught to a Mary Queen of Scots cap of tiny seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white orchids.

Miss Helen Gonzalez, maid of honor, wore a bouffant frock of aqua net over taffeta made with a strapless bodice and brief jacket. Her halo was matching aqua net. She carried yellow carnations. The bridesmaids, Miss Helen Vanlerberghe of Lompoc, Mrs. Francis Gonzalez of Ynez and Mrs. Martha Gonzalez and Miss Lucy Morales of Santa Barbara wore identical costumes of lime green, yellow, pink and lavender and carried carnation bouquets to match their gowns. Gloria Jean Dominguez was flower girl and Franie Sierra, ring bearer.

James Vanlerberghe Jr. served as best man for his brother. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Vanlerberghe Sr. of Lompoc. Ushers were Gen Douglass, Jess Gonzalez, Fidel Morales and Casey Casanova.

The reception was held at Solvang Memorial Hall.

The bride was educated in the Santa Ynez schools and has been a secretary-bookkeeper at Camp Roberts. Mr. Vanlerberghe, a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Escanaba, is a civilian employee at Camp Roberts.

George and Ted Rouman, sons of Mrs. Sam Rouman, 512 S. 10th St., and Dave Gasman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gasman, 615 S. 10th St., are leaving today for the University of Michigan to resume their studies.

Stresses Value Of X-Ray Tests

The importance of taking advantage of a free chest x-ray service to be offered here Sept. 7 is stressed by Dr. R. A. Tearman, of Munising, director of the Alger-Schooncraft Health Department.

"The time is fast approaching," Dr. Tearman said, "to have your annual chest x-ray examination. To insure good health, be sure that an incipient disease is or is not developing in your chest. Certain diseases of the chest creep up on you without symptoms — without warning, like a thief in the dark."

"Therefore forewarned of a possible impending illness, one can seek medical advice and thus forestall a disease that might lead to serious illness or to an untimely death."

The following diseases found by x-ray examinations of the chest can be cured or arrested if found in time (early), and proper treatment instituted: Certain forms of heart disease, cancer of the lung, pleurisy, silicosis, bronchiectasis, tuberculosis, emphysema, virus infections of the lungs, and other abnormalities of the lungs, heart and aorta.

We thank you all.

Prosecutor James R. Rood authorized the warrant Mrs. Johnson was killed last Friday when her husband's car and one driven by Harless collided west of here.

Powerful Green Bay West Outclasses Eskimos 57-0

One of the most powerful football teams ever to invade the Escanaba High School gridiron visited here Saturday afternoon. The Green Bay West Wildcats ran up a 57-0 victory over the Eskimos on a wind and rain swept gridiron.

A small group of chilled and wet fans huddled in the vast Escanaba stadium were stunned as Green Bay scored almost at will in the first two periods of play. West lanced Escanaba's goal line on the first Green Bay play from scrimmage, then added two more touchdowns in the first period and four in the second to lead 45-0 at the half.

Poised, polished and powerful, Coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzaca's Wildcats ran for 410 yards while the Eskimos were thrown for a loss of 12 on the ground. The Wildcats passed only three times in the game, the final toss going 19 yards for a TD in the final period.

Eskimos No Match

Coach Joe Milokna's inexperienced Eskimos were simply no match for the invaders.

The Escanaba offense was completely impotent and the home defense was porous. Only bright spots in the dismal Escanaba picture were standout defensive plays by veteran end Tom Gregoire and reserve tackle Ron Dufoe who several times threw a wrench in the smooth-working West scoring machine.

Twelve Green Bay backs took turns running the ball and six of them scored touchdowns. Right half Fred Scheffner crossed the Eskimo goal line three times, left half Bill Anderson tallied twice and Frank Neu, Ken Joachin, and Dan Calawarts scored once each while Dick LaTour passed to Bob Boguski for the final score.

The game was the first between the two schools in history. It was the first of a four-year series scheduled between West and East Green Bay and the Eskimos.

Forced to Punt

Escanaba received the opening kickoff with Pat McDonough returning 11 yards to his own 16. McDonough hit the line for three yards and Marshall Judson carried twice before Don Dahlins was dropped for a five-yard loss by West center Dick Campbell.

Quarterback Jim Beck punted from the 16 to the Escanaba 32 and on Green Bay's first scrimmage play Anderson raced for a touchdown with four downfield blockers loping along in front of him. The kick for extra point by Jim Saunders made it 7-0.

McDonough returned the kickoff 12 yards. Judson rammed through for seven and McDonough lost a yard. Judson gained a yard and on fourth down Beck punted to the Green Bay 40. Ken Joachin's fumble was recovered by McDonough but the Eskimos were again unable to penetrate the line and Beck punted to the Green Bay 20.

62-Yard TD

Anderson and Saunders carried to the 38 from where Scheffner shook loose for a 62-yard jaunt to the goal line. Saunders' kick gave Green Bay a 14-0 lead.

Escanaba lost the ball on a fumble moments later and scored from the eighth-yard line on the first scrimmage play for West. It was 21-0 after Saunders split the final score.

The game was the first between the two schools in history. It was the first of a four-year series scheduled between West and East Green Bay and the Eskimos.

David Gasman topped a field of four contenders for the Charles Gessner Trophy in a four-head race at the Yacht Harbor yesterday afternoon.

Gasman won two first places and earned the most points with 12½ to 10½ for his closest competitor. Officials were Frank St. Martin, Dr. Ivan Wood and Ed Erickson.

Warm weather yesterday drew a large crowd of sailors and spectators to the Yacht Harbor for the pram races. David Johnson won the handicap race, the team of David Gasman, Brian Wood, David Johnson, Sandra Sundstrom and Fred Erickson won the relay and Russell Johnson won the dad's race.

The next races will be held Tuesday evening. Points will be counted for another trophy offered to encourage the sailing program.

Pace Slows Down

Calawarts hits the line for eight yards and the final TD of the first half. An attempted pass for the point was blocked.

Green Bay scoring was limited to a touchdown in the third and another in the fourth periods of the second half. West marched 80 yards after the opening kickoff in the third stanza. Scheffner rambled 41 yards for the relay and Russell Johnson won the dad's race.

The next races will be held

Tuesday evening. Points will be counted for another trophy offered to encourage the sailing program.

CANCEL STOCK RACES

Stock car races at the fairgrounds Sunday were canceled at the last minute because of lack of cars. Mark Olson of the Racing Association said this morning.

Drivers had apparently put their cars away for the winter, or hadn't repaired them after the last big races of the season. Olson

Mustangs Beat Braves 7-0 On Blocked Punt

Braves here Saturday at Marble Athletic Field in weather better suited for duck hunting than football.

The game had been a see-saw defensive battle with neither team making any serious scoring threats until close to the end of the half when Munising with the wind at their backs punted out on the 15 yard line.

The Braves lost 7 yards on two running plays and fullback Joe Corbier's punt was blocked with Center Alfred Sturgeon of the Mustangs recovering it behind the goal for a touchdown. A backfield in motion penalty on the try for extra point set the ball back five yards but Frank Hamilla's place kick was good.

The Braves started several drives in the second half which looked like they might pay off but each time a miscue or a stiff Mustang defense stopped the threat.

Munising starters were Ends Dennis

Munising likewise had several chances in the second half, once on a partially blocked punt, another time on a recovered fumble but the Braves halted them.

In the starting lineup for Gladstone were Ends John Quinn and Jack Beach, Tackles Duane Peterson and Bob Sandstrom, Guards Dick Rivers and Tom Brewer, Center Rod Kelley, Quarterback Francis Peterson, Halfbacks Jim Bratton and Frank Barak and Fullback Joe Corbier.

Cooks Tips Cards In Playoff Opener, 4-1

With Orville Olson spinning a near four-hitter, the Cooks baseball team defeated Manistique in the first game of the best two out of three playoff series yesterday by a 4-1 score.

The Cardinals scored first in the second inning when Dick Makinen singled, stole second and scored on a single by Weber. Cooks tied it in the third on successive doubles by Gay Swagert and Stuff Carley.

Bert Lund delivered the game winning blow in the fourth, slamming a homer over the left field fence. Cooks added two insurance runs in the fifth when Swagert homered over the center field fence and Carley got his second of three hits and scored when he and Olson worked a double steal.

Olson issued his four hits in the first three innings and then held Manistique in check the remainder of the game. He fanned six, walked two and hit one batsman.

Cooks reached Don Carlson for 11 hits. The Card Hurler fanned eight and walked two.

The second game of the series will be played at the Manistique diamond next Sunday at 2:30.

Today Is V-Day For Yanks

By JOE REICHLER

AP Sports Writer

Today is V-Day for Manager Casey Stengel and his New York Yankees.

V stands for five, the record number of consecutive pennants Stengel and his Yankees are certain of winning, a feat never accomplished before by club or manager.

The world champions reduced their "magic number" to two by defeating the Cleveland Indians, 6-3 on amazing Johnny Mize's pinch hit home run with two mates aboard in the eighth inning. The triumph boosted the Yank lead over the Tribe to 12 games.

Two is the combination number of Yankee victories and/or Indian defeats needed to gain New York's fifth straight pennant. As the Yankees and Indians were to clash again this afternoon, a New York victory would eliminate the Tribe from any mathematical possibility of overtaking the Yankees.

The Chicago White Sox officially faded out of the pennant race Sunday losing 7-6 to the Red Sox in Boston. In other American League games, Detroit solidified its hold on sixth place, sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from Washington 10-4 and 6-4 while St. Louis and Philadelphia divided their doubleheader. The Browns spoiled rookie right hander Bob Trice's major league debut, defeating the Philadelphia Negro 5-2 in the opener. The A's won the second 2-0 as Harry Byrd ended a personal nine-game losing streak.

Win Eighth Straight

In the National League Chicago's seventh place Cubs extended their winning streak to nine straight, defeating the champion Brooklyn Dodgers 3-2 in 10 innings. The St. Louis Cardinals rolled up 19 hits crushing the Philadelphia Phillies 17-3 for Harvey Haddix' 18th triumph. Warren Spahn won his 20th as Milwaukee split a doubleheader with the New York Giants. Joe Adcock's 18th homer with a man on base enabled Spahn to win a 2-1 hurling duel from Larry Jansen in the opener. Five unearned runs in the fourth inning gave Marv Grissom and the Giants a 7-4 victory.

Vanderbilt, Pa., and Dick Keller, 180, Toledo, an elusive, slicing type of back.

Backing up Heap are newcomers Dick Fitzgerald, 190, Chicago, and Dick Hendricks, 182, Danville, Ill. Both are exceptional ball carriers.

One of the rookie prizes is quarterback Don Schaefer, 5-11, 185, from Pittsburgh — a good long and short passer, breakaway runner and fine defensive man.

Schedule Is Tough

"You should hear much about Schaefer probably next year," says Leahy. "Like all of our sophomores he needs a lot of coaching."

"I wish we had a schedule that would permit the use of the so-called 'shock troops' of (Knute) Rockne's time. If we had some easy games at the start, we could have them get needed experience to use later on as 'shock troops'."

"But we open our schedule against Oklahoma, then follow Boston, Pittsburgh and Georgia Tech."

"Thus, we are not in a position to take an early chance with untried sophomores. We must stick with the veterans."

Native Dancer, With Bad Foot, Runs Again

NEW YORK (P) — Convalescent

Native Dancer, his date with Tom

Fool postponed until perhaps the Pimlico Special Oct. 24, took another leisurely gallop around Belmont Park's huge mile and one half main track today.

The grey 3-year-old champion was suddenly withdrawn Saturday from the $50,000 Sysonby Mile at

Belmont Sept. 26 when owner Alfred Vanderbilt said an injury to the colt's left front foot was not sufficiently healed to permit proper training.

The announcement was a big disappointment to all sports fans who had been anticipating a duel between the Dancer, winner of 18 of his 19 races, and Tom Fool, the handicap star. Tom Fool, pride of the Greentree stable, hasn't been beaten in eight races this year.

NEW YORK (P) — A broken foot, a shoulder separation and a chronic kidney condition had dimmed the outlook at Tennessee, California and Indiana in the latest outbreak of practice mishaps on the eve of the 1953 football season.

Tennessee's Pat Oleksiak, rated No. 1 in the key tailback position of the Volunteer single wing attack, got the broken foot in a scrimmage at Knoxville Saturday.

Starting quarterback Sammy Williams suffered the shoulder dislocation the same day at California while Indiana's captain and end, Bob Inserra, was forced to drop the game when it was discovered he had a chronic kidney condition.

Indiana Hard Hit

Alred minus the services of veteran tackle Bill Svaty who found he couldn't shake the effects of a spring shoulder operation Indiana is only one of a group of schools hard hit by losses.

Wisconsin's defending Big Ten co - champions have only slight hopes of utilizing quarterback Jim Haluska. The Badgers' sophomore field general last year, as the result of a summer broken leg incident.

At West Point, Earl Blaik lost his three best tackles and two backs on an already thin squad.

Michigan Center Out

The story of vital losses is much the same at Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Rutgers and Tulsa.

Physicians have advised Michigan center Dean Ludwig to quit after a recent neck injury.

Even at South Bend, Ind., where no one feels sorry for a Notre Dame team conceded to be the best in the land, dependable half-back Paul Reynolds will be missed due to a recurrence of a spring knee injury.

"I thought Black did a fine job yesterday in the first six innings against the Chicago Cubs," he said. "I may use him for a couple of innings today—sort of sharpen him up for the World Series. He's big and can take all the work we can give him."

Black, making his third start of the season, turned in a two-hit, one-walk chore in the first six frames.

He yielded a lead-off bunt single to Frankie Baumholtz and pitched a double play ball to Eddie Miksis before Dee Fondy homered. After that, the big righthander retired 15 Cubs in succession before walking Baumholtz with two out in the sixth.

The Cubs got to Black's successor, Jim Hughes for two runs and a 3-2 victory in 10 innings.

Notre Dame Prospects Are Good This Season

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (P) — Notre Dame could have a great football team in 1954. This fall, with reserve strength geared to sophomores, it will have a good one.

Coach Frank Leahy has veterans for every position and backing them up are some of the finest sophomore prospects since the war.

None of the newcomers is likely to win starting assignments by the time Notre Dame opens its 10-game schedule at Oklahoma Sept. 26. But there is enough pressure from them to keep the lettermen constantly on their toes and before the season progresses too far, some of the fledglings are liable to bloom into regulars.

Veteran Backfield

Injections Cure Skin Troubles

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEESE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—Ointments feeding vitamin A through the skin to clear up skin troubles are promised by findings reported to the American Chemical Society.

Some of the lotions put on the skin even cured generalized vitamin A deficiencies in mice, said Drs. Albert Edward Sobel and Abraham Rosenberg of Jewish Hospital of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Many skin ailments, including some forms of pimples, warts, rashes and inflammations, all show a common sign of vitamin A deficiency, the chemists said.

Big daily tablets of vitamin A help to correct these troubles, much vitamin can cause other upsets. The skin troubles don't appear to be due to general lack of vitamin A, they find, but to some failure within the body to supply the skin with enough vitamin.

The chemists fed mice diets lacking in vitamin A. The mice stopped growing, developed an eye trouble and other signs of too little vitamin. When lotions containing the vitamin were placed on shaved spots on their heads, they recovered, showing that they absorbed the vitamin through the skin.

Most effective were the two preparations, often used on babies' skin, containing vitamin A. This method of treating skin troubles has not yet been tested on humans.

Texas Oilman Drops Belly Dancer, Finds Another Exotic Girl

NEW YORK (AP) — Sheppard (Abdullah) King, the Texas oil heir, has found himself another exotic dancer.

He said his highly-publicized romance and marriage to Egyptian belly dancer Samia Gamal is "all off" and that he is going to marry a Turkish terpsichorean-brunette Nejla Ates.

She is dancing at the Latin Quarter, a night spot here.

King told an interviewer he intends to get a divorce from Samia.

Samia has been saying in Cairo with varying degrees of firmness that she intended to rid herself of King.

Now, the Texan says he is going to take the initiative.

King met Miss Ates (pronounced Atish) about three days ago and already has given her a diamond ring as a token of esteem.

Cholly Knickerbocker wrote in the New York Journal American.

"To say that Nejla sends the boy is the understatement of the century. She brings him back."

The writer quoted Nejla as saying:

"When he married Samia I saw his pictures in all the papers, and how I wished he belonged to me. Then, this week he walked into the nightspot and saw her dance. 'I am verree hoppy,' she said.

Civilian Jobs Open With Army In Japan, Europe And Alaska

DETROIT (AP)—Army representatives have started interviewing Michigan civilians interested in job opportunities with the Army in Japan, Europe and Alaska.

Recruitment of civilians for administrative jobs where United States forces are stationed abroad is needed for overseas replacements and as mission changes develop, the Army said.

Miss Anne G. Goss and Miss Constance C. Kulwick, Army representatives, said interviews will be conducted through Sept. 24 at the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) office (7310 Woodward), here.

Some of the civilian positions in which there are shortages of personnel, they said, organization and methods examiners, position classifiers, cost, fiscal and business accountants, tabulating machine planners and supervisors, safety engineers, shorthand reporters, stenographers and typists.

They said there are also openings for female recreation and librarian personnel who are college graduates to staff service clubs and libraries. Positions are not available for skilled or unskilled labor.

Base salaries range from $2,950 to $8,360 a year plus allowances in some areas. Transportation is furnished free from point of hire and return. Housing is provided by the government in most areas.

Boys Shoot At Crows For Target Practice

DETROIT (AP)—A pair of suburban Center Line teen-agers, tired of firing .22 rifles at pop bottles and cans, turned their sights on a herd of 13 prime dairy cattle.

The two quoted by state police Thursday as saying that they took pot shots at the top-grade Holsteins "just to sting them and watch them run."

The results of the afternoon's rifle practice were one dead cow, two others that may have to be destroyed and the remainder suffering from bullet wounds in the legs and flanks.

One of the 16-year-olds was held for investigation, the other turned over to his parents.

Vandals Dump Fuel Oil Into Manistee Lake

MANISTEE (AP)—More than 15,000 gallons of fuel oil flowed from the tanks of the strikebound Falleen Drop Forge Co. into Manistee Lake Thursday. Company officials charged vandalism and called in police to investigate.

Conservation officers and Coast Guard officials were investigating the possibility of pollution and danger to shipping. The oil was expected eventually to drift into the river and out to Lake Michigan.

Officers of the strikebound plant told Sheriff Harry Holmgren and state police that valves on two tanks containing the oil shipment received Wednesday had been opened, permitting the fuel to drain into the lake 40 feet away.

The company, currently engaged in a dispute with Local 455 of the United Mine Workers affiliate, posted a $2,500 reward in connection with the incident.

There were 82,500 seamen employed on U. S. ocean-going ships in early 1953—about 25 per cent fewer than the same period in 1952.

Bill Oatis Writes Czech Prison Story From Vivid Memory

NEW YORK (AP)—"That's not quite the way it was—"

William N. Oatis, AP correspondent freed by the Czechs after two years' imprisonment, was discussing an angle of his own story, appearing in The Escanaba Daily Press.

An editor, as editors will, had suggested that perhaps a certain passage in Oatis' original draft was too long. Couldn't it be abridged by saying such-and-such?

"No," said Bill Oatis, "that's not quite the way it was."

He was insisting that his own story be, in every fact, his own story. He insisted on that throughout the several weeks he was at work on the series of articles.

Brought No Notes

Oatis started preliminary work on the story while he was still undergoing medical treatment. Doctors suspected he had tuberculosis.

There were things to look into, too. Oatis needed detailed maps of the Prague area, to orient himself. He had to study the transcript of the trial as it had been prepared by observers for the U. S. State Department which denounced his trial as a travesty of justice. He wanted also to see the texts of some of the Czech laws that ostensibly provided the basis of the case against him. He referred frequently to a Czech dictionary, and called upon his own command of the language.

Dictated In Hospital
All this time Oatis was, in effect, back in prison. He could look out at the trees on the nearby Westchester Hills, but not venture among them. Doctor's orders.

Finally, after a month's treatment, the tests all showed negative. Oatis came down a broad highway, alongside the Hudson River, one sunny afternoon, and took up life in a Manhattan apartment. There he was able to buckle down to serious work on his story. In the hospital he had dictated some preliminary material to his wife Laurabelle, seated before a typewriter at his bedside. Now he manned the "mill" himself, and he was back in his element.

Today the story is complete, and Oatis is looking into vacation timetables. Later he will undertake a new assignment for The Associated Press.

It is estimated there is enough timber in U. S. forests to build a six room house for every man, woman and child in the nation and have lumber left over.
